

Program Structure

Math-101 tutoring operates on a monthly enrollment model designed to support consistency, predictable scheduling, and steady academic progress. Each enrolled student is assigned a dedicated weekly time slot reserved exclusively for them.

Monthly Enrollment

Tutoring is offered through monthly enrollment only and is not structured on an hourly or per-session basis. This model allows instruction to remain consistent throughout the academic year, regardless of variations in school calendars or the number of weeks in each month.

Attendance and Scheduling

Because each time slot is reserved in advance, missed sessions are not rescheduled and make-up lessons are not offered. Monthly enrollment is required to maintain a student's reserved session and ensures fairness across all enrolled families.

Holidays and Breaks

Monthly enrollment remains in effect during school holidays, long weekends, and academic breaks. While some months may include fewer sessions due to school schedules, the monthly structure is designed to balance out across the academic year.

Instructor Cancellations

In the rare event that a session must be canceled by the instructor, an alternative session or appropriate adjustment will be provided for that week.

Enrollment Changes

Because availability is limited, families are encouraged to provide advance notice if they do not plan to continue so that the reserved time slot may be offered to another student.

Tuition Information

Tuition is based on monthly enrollment and scheduling availability. Families are encouraged to contact Math-101 directly for current rates and openings.
